

COMMUNITY INVESTMENT TAX CREDIT

HELP COMMUNITIES RECOVER, REBUILD

AND GET A 50% STATE TAX CREDIT

This is the power of the Community Investment Tax Credit. It provides donors — whether individuals, companies, and foundations — a 50% state tax credit that fuels the work of more than 30 Community Development Corporations (CDCs) across Massachusetts.

Whether it is helping small businesses recover from the impact of Covid-19, stabilizing neighborhoods or providing food or emergency financial assistance to individuals and families who have lost income, CDCs have responded to the health crisis and the economic repercussions that reverberated throughout their communities. The CITC has helped CDCs to build the necessary internal capacity to add and expand their programs and services, increase their community engagement, and leverage additional public and private funding to do their work.

Together we can empower our communities to recover and rebuild, more equitable and resilient than ever.
